MONDAY MEANS MUSIC: New time and place

In the hopes of getting better student/faculty/staff attendance, we will be scheduling the MONDAY MEANS MUSIC concerts for 4 PM MONDAYS, in LYNCH AUDITORIUM. Note that these will occur every other Monday this semester, instead of weekly as in the past.

This should be a much better time for everyone, so please do give us your support through your presence!

ANOTHER DALLAS SYMPHONY ARTIST!!!

CHAPEL CHOIR

It's recruiting time: we especially need SOPRANOS and ALTOS! This group specializes in Latin Liturgical music -- both Gregorian Chant and Renaissance polyphony -- and sings twice a month for the 10 AM Sunday Mass on Campus. Rehearsal time: Thursday - 6-7:30.

POSSIBLE ADDITIONS FOR SPRING SEMESTER

- a) MUSIC PRINCIPLES: a study of the basics of music, including scales, rhythm, meter, terminology, etc.
- b) CHAMBER ENSEMBLE: an opportunity for the instrumentalists on campus to play together in a small orchestra setting.
- c) UNIVERSITY CHORUS: a choral group aimed at drawing its main membership from the faculty, staff and administration.

WE NEED YOUR THOUGHTS ON THESE POSSIBILITIES! Also, we're always interested in suggestions for future activities. Drop a note in campus mail to Box 511, or come by the Music Studio with your comments.

CAMPUS CONCERT:

All U.D. musicians -- pianists, singers, flutists, violinists, etc. -- are invited to be a part of the program on November 7. Any CLASSICAL piece will be acceptable; and, if an accompanist is needed, we can arrange for one. Please contact the Music Studio to schedule your performance.

n. ETHNIC DANCE is the new item on the agenda for this semester. The group will meet in the Gym on Thursday evenings, and will learn a variety of folk dances from different lands.
