
Please forward to UD Community: Senior Studios Open Tomorrow Night. Register to watch here.

1 message

Provost Office <provostoffice@udallas.edu>
Bcc: udlist@udallas.edu

Thu, Nov 12, 2020 at 4:40 PM

Dear UD Community,

I am pleased to announce that the Senior Studios open tomorrow night and run through Sunday.

The two plays this fall are Thornton Wilder's tender American drama, The Long Christmas Dinner, directed by Sam Chiodo, and Luigi Pirandello's wonderfully humorous existential drama, The Man with the Flower in his Mouth, directed by Pedro Barquin.

In The Long Christmas Dinner, Mother Bayard and her family move out to their new house in the St. Louis countryside to enjoy a traditional Christmas dinner. The dinner continues over 90 years, highlighting the life, death, and complexities of the American family.

In The Man With the Flower in His Mouth a lackadaisical customer encounters a jovial stranger after dark at an all-night cafe in Rome. As the men complain the night away, the stranger asks some serious questions and tests the customer's perceptions of life.

Due to copyright laws, you must CLICK THIS LINK AND REGISTER HERE to watch the shows.

Have a great weekend.

Sincerely,

--

Stefan Novinski
Chair and Director of University Theater
Associate Professor of Drama
University of Dallas
snovinski@gmail.com
www.stefannovinski.com
(213) 841-4630