

SPECIAL ISSUE

CORRECTION...

When GSM ASSOCIATE DEAN PAULA ANN HUGHES speaks on "Effective Communications" Wednesday, Nov. 20, her forum will be a 7:30 a.m. breakfast in upstairs Haggar Center, rather than an evening meeting as previously reported in TEMPO.

Also, there is a charge (which includes breakfast) to attend each of the Business Seminars jointly sponsored by North Lake College, Irving Chamber of Commerce and UD: $8 for Irving Chamber members and $13 for nonmembers.

Schedule for remaining Business Seminars in 1986:

- | | |
|-------------------------|--|
| January 22 | "Business Planning/Budgets/Financial Controls," Bill Shoemaker, UD |
| February 26 | "Motivating Employees," Saul W. Gellerman, UD |
| March 26 | "Time Management," North Lake College |
| April 23 or 30
(TBA) | "Financing/Raising Funds," Lionel Goldstein, UD |
| May 28 | "Economic and Business Trends - Local and State," North Lake College |

PLEASE MAKE RESERVATIONS IN ADVANCE with Karen Long, 252-8484.

ADDITIONS...

UD faculty and staff are invited to attend the opening reception of the Invitational Plate Show Saturday, Nov. 23, 2-8 p.m. at the Conduit gallery (2814 Elm St., Dallas). Several members of UD Art Department faculty and former students will be participating artists in the invitational show which runs through Dec. 3.

The Chapel of the Incarnation has won a merit award for architectural design in a national competition sponsored by the Interfaith Forum on Religion, Art and Architecture (IFRAA). The Chapel will be part of IFRAA's traveling exhibit of winners and be featured in the spring issue of IFRAA's journal, Faith and Form.

The UD Viewbook has received another merit award. This national recognition comes from the Printing Industry of America.