

Tempo

Vol. 2, No. 8

University of Dallas
News and Information

Jan. 22, 1980

PROFESSOR ANTHONY NEMETZ of the University of Georgia Philosophy and Religion Department will present the first of two lectures in a new series sponsored by the Center for Contemplative Studies. Open to all interested persons, the first lecture, "The Sensus Litteralis: The Natural Sense," is set for 4 p.m. today in the Gorman Lecture Center Faculty Lounge. The second lecture, "The Sensus Spiritualis: The Graceful Sense," will be presented in the Gorman Center Lounge on Thursday at 4 p.m. Dr. Kent Emery Jr., director of the Center for Contemplative Studies, said the lecture series is one among the Center's many efforts to make the western contemplative tradition more widely known.

* * *

JOHN HITTINGER, a former UD graduate student and current instructor in philosophy at Benedictine College in Atchison, Kan., will present two Politics Department public lectures this week. On Thursday at 7:30 p.m. he will speak on the topic "Toward Understanding the Viet Nam War" in the Gorman Lecture Center Faculty Lounge. He will present a second lecture entitled "The Just War Theory and Vatican II" on Friday at 4 p.m. in the Gorman Center Lounge. John is a doctoral student at Catholic University.

* * *

BACK ON SCHEDULE... After a holiday break between semesters, "Tempo" is back on a weekly schedule. Please send all departmental news and items of University-wide interest to News and Information in the Office of Planning and Development in the Haggar University Center, or call extensions 154 or 261. Deadlines for submitting information will be 5 p.m. each Friday. "Tempo" will be distributed on Tuesdays.

* * *

DR. JOSEPH RICE, associate director of planning and development, has returned from St. Louis where he recently served as a reader for the Danforth Graduate Fellowships. The former director of a Danforth-sponsored faculty development program, and a member of the executive board of the Danforth sponsored institute for Teaching and Learning in Atlanta, Dr. Rice has served as a reader for the last four years.

* * *

CHANGES IN THE STUDENT LIFE OFFICE... Linda Sweetman has resigned her post as assistant dean of students to complete work on her Master of Humanities degree. She will remain on the University staff as a special assistant to Dr. Louise Cowan. Replacing Linda in the Student Life Office is Pat Daly. Pat is a 1976 graduate of the University. He spent the past year and a half as an assistant on the Rome campus.

* * *

PAUL GIGGI, co-director of the food service, is another new face on the University staff this semester. A native of Boston, Paul has been with SAGA, the University's food service contractor, for four years. In previous assignments he directed SAGA food service operations at Babson College and Bentley College in Massachusetts. Paul earned his bachelor's degree in management at Northeastern University.

* * *

UD IN THE NEWS... Dr. June Welch, History Department chairman, was the subject of a Jan. 13 feature in the Dallas Morning News... The Jan. 11 edition of The Texas Catholic featured an article on the GSM.

* * *

SHORT NOTES

...The Adolph Coors Foundation of Denver, Colo., recently awarded a $10,000 grant to the GSM. Dean Svetozar Pejovich said the funds are to be used for general operating expenses.

...The Chaplin's Luncheons resume on Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the upstairs dining room of the Haggard University Center.

* * *